

NPTEL – Assignment
Week -4

1. A facility that provides only rudimentary services, with no computer hardware or peripherals is known as:

- 1. Cold site
2. Hot site
3. Warm site
4. Service bureau

2. The amount of effort necessary to make the business function operational after the technology element is recovered is known as:

- 1. Recovery Time Objective
2. Work Recovery Time
3. Maximum Tolerable Downtime
4. Recovery Point Objective

3. Contingency Planning includes:

1. Incident response plan
2. Disaster recovery plan
3. Business continuity plan
- 4. All the above

4. An investigation and assessment of the various adverse events that can affect the organization, conducted as a preliminary phase of the contingency planning process, which includes a determination of how critical a system or set of information is to the organization's core processes and recovery priorities is known as:

1. Risk assessment
- 2. Business impact analysis
3. Crisis management
4. Incident damage assessment

5. The process that prepares an organization to reestablish or relocate critical business operations during a disaster that affects operations at the primary site is known as:

1. Business continuity planning
- 2. Disaster recovery planning
3. Strategic Planning
4. Operational planning

6. Which level of Organizational Planning typically addresses day-to-day activities and tasks?

1. Strategic Planning
2. Tactical Planning
- 3. Operational Planning
4. Top Management Planning

7. The job function of the Chief Information Security Officer includes:

NPTEL – Assignment
Week -4

1. Creating a strategic information security plan with a vision for the future of information security.
2. Understanding fundamental business activities performed by the company and suggesting appropriate information security solutions that uniquely protect these activities.
3. Improving the status of information security by developing action plans, schedules, budgets, status reports and top management communications
4. All the above

8. What is the unit of analysis in the contingency planning approach?

1. Business Assets
2. Risk Assets
3. Business Processes
4. Risk Factors

9. Which of the following is not a possible incident indicator?

1. Presence of unfamiliar files
2. Unusual consumption of computing resources
3. Unusual system crashes
4. Activities at unexpected times

10. What is the purpose of conducting an After Action Review (AAR) in incident response?

1. To review and improve the effectiveness of the DRP
2. To review and improve the effectiveness of the BCP
3. To review and improve the effectiveness of the IRP
4. To notify law enforcement agencies

Submit Answers